2017/18

WELCOME TO THE PHILHARMONIA ORCHESTRA'S 2017/18 SEASON AT BEDFORD CORN EXCHANGE.

This season in Bedford, the Philharmonia brings both large-scale symphonies — Shostakovich Symphony No. 5 and Tchaikovsky Symphony No. 4 — and more intimate works to the Corn Exchange stage: the Orchestra's Concert Master Zsolt-Tihamér Visontay again directs from the Concert Master's chair, with Mozart's Haffner Serenade and a Haydn Symphony.

We are proud to be bringing some of our finest visiting artists to our Bedford residency, including the Estonian Maestro Paavo Järvi, alongside upcoming talent, such as the Mexican-American violinist Elena Urioste, who plays the beautiful Korngold Violin Concerto in the opening concert of the season.

This season has been made possible because of funding from the Philharmonia Orchestra in Bedford Trust, a new charity that still needs to raise £250,000 to secure a long-term endowment for the Orchestra in Bedford. For more information about how you can support us through the Trust, see the back cover of this brochure.

Also, new for this season, you can now book your tickets for the Philharmonia Orchestra via the Orchestra's own box office, freephone on 0800 652 6717 or online at philharmonia.co.uk.

We look forward to welcoming you.

2017/18 AT BEDFORD CORN EXCHANGE

Friday 20 October 2017, 7.30pm

FROM THE NEW WORLD MAYOR'S CONCERT

Alpesh Chauhan conductor
Elena Urioste violin

COPLAND Fanfare for the Common Man
KORNGOLD Violin Concerto
DVOŘÁK Symphony No. 9, From The New World

There's a good reason why certain pieces become classics, and with its combination of melody, nostalgia and high drama, Dvořák's New World Symphony has been loved by audiences ever since its premiere in 1893. First, though, discover two very different but equally tuneful masterpieces from across the pond: Copland's mighty musical salute to freedom, and the sumptuous, gloriously songful violin concerto that Erich Korngold wrote in 1940s Hollywood — performed by Elena Urioste.

6.15pm, Philharmonia MMSF Instrumental Fellowship Programme Young Artist Showcase, FREE entry

Recipients of the Philharmonia MMSF Instrumental Fellowship Programme will take to the stage for a recital showcasing the next generation of orchestral talent in a varied programme of chamber repertoire.

This concert is supported by

Wednesday 22 November 2017, 7.30pm

SHOSTAKOVICH & RACHMANINOV

Long Yu conductor
George Li piano

GLINKA Overture, Ruslan and Ludmilla
RACHMANINOV Piano Concerto No. 2
SHOSTAKOVICH Symphony No. 5

For Dmitri Shostakovich, his Fifth Symphony really was a matter of life and death. Written in Stalin's USSR, this is music on the edge: a shout of defiance in a time of terror, and one of the most powerful and personal statements in all of 20th-century music. It's a gripping contrast to the romance of Rachmaninov's hugely popular piano concerto — played by the brilliant young American star George Li — and Glinka's sparkling little firecracker of an overture.

Tuesday 30 January 2018, 7.30pm

CARNIVAL IN PRAGUE

Paavo Järvi conductor
Lucienne Renaudin Vary trumpet

DVOŘÁK Overture, Carnival
HUMMEL Trumpet Concerto
DVOŘÁK Symphony No. 7

Paavo Järvi conducts a programme exploring the stunning musical landscapes of Czech composer Antonín Dvořák. From the exuberant opening bars of Dvořák's Carnival overture to the heroic conclusion of his Seventh Symphony declared 'fit to shake the world' by Dvořák himself, experience the unbuckled joy of this supremely life-affirming music. In between the works by Dvořák, young trumpet virtuoso Lucienne Renaudin Vary performs a classical masterpiece with a particularly gorgeous, soulful slow movement: Hummel's Trumpet Concerto.

THE YOUNG MOZART

Zsolt-Tihamér Visontay violin/direction

HAYDN Symphony No. 47 'The Palindrome'
MOZART Serenade No. 7 in D, K.250, Haffner

The young Mozart wrote his Haffner serenade as music for a party: a friend's wedding in Salzburg. So it's a glimpse into an 18th-century world of jubilant trumpets, spirited dance tunes and elegant romance, all drenched in summer sunshine. The Philharmonia's Concert Master Zsolt-Tihamér Visontay leads from his violin — just as Mozart himself would have done — and launches the celebrations with a great burst of imagination and humour from Mozart's friend Joseph Haydn.

Saturday 7 April 2018, 7.30pm

TCHAIKOVSKY: SYMPHONY NO. 4

Michael Collins conductor
Timothy Walden cello

BRAHMS St Anthony Variations
(Variations on a Theme by Haydn)
BIRCHALL Labyrinth for Cello and Orchestra
TCHAIKOVSKY Symphony No. 4

Trumpets and horns shout out in terror, the violins sob with longing — when Tchaikovsky wears his heart on his sleeve, there's emotion in every note. And never more so than in his Fourth Symphony: a no-holds-barred musical autobiography, drenched in melody. It'll make a sensational finish to a concert that begins with Brahms at his wittiest and most mellow, and includes a fascinating new musical adventure from the Philharmonia's very own Richard Birchall.

PASSION & POETRY

Christoph Altstaedt conductor
Singers to be announced

WAGNER Siegfried Idyll
MASSENET Cendrillon (arias and excerpts)
VERDI La traviata (arias and excerpts)
LISZT Les préludes

Rising-star conductor Christoph Altstaedt brings a programme of romantic 19th-century storytelling — both operatic and symphonic — to the Corn Exchange stage. The evening opens and closes with two symphonic poems: Liszt's lushly scored Les préludes and Wagner's Siegfried Idyll. The music for the Idyll — later used in Wagner's opera Siegfried — was composed for Wagner's wife Cosima's birthday, and first performed as a surprise for her on the stairs of their villa in Lucerne.

In between, themes of love and heartache in two of the most popular operas of the Romantic era: Massenet's Cinderella and the tragedy of Violetta in Verdi's La traviata.

“Altstaedt is a real discovery...
His is a name to remember.”

Philharmonia Orchestra in Bedford Trust

Help to secure the future of the Philharmonia Orchestra's residency at the Bedford Corn Exchange

Zsolt-Tihamér Visontay, Concert Master © Felix Broede

Since 1995, the Philharmonia Orchestra's concert season has sat firmly at the heart of Bedford's cultural life, and our award-winning education programme has reached over 5,000 children in the local area.

In the face of increasing pressure on the public purse, the Philharmonia Orchestra in Bedford Trust is aiming to build a £1 million endowment by 2019.

Thanks to generous support from Arts Council England, Bedford Borough Council and The Harpur Trust, £750,000 has already been raised, with the final £250,000 still to find.

Donate today and help us to secure the future of the Philharmonia's concert season in Bedford.

Thank you
